A brief note on the format of the:

The Three Dots

The three dots(…) you will find while reading the book were intentional. I used them when I am not in liberty or comfortable to reveal a name, or the identity of a person.

Many readers might conclude that there is no logical continuity or proper sequences, or even a systematic order in my listings of notes, briefings and items taken from the Aliens Transcripts, as they are herewith published in the book.

The explanation is very simple:
I am not writing here a love story, so chapters and paragraphs are logically linked to each order, and one event leads to another.
I know Corneille and Racine (Masters of the French Classic Plays) would have objected severely.
What are you reading are excerpts/representation of some of the most important ideas, topics and notes, and/or items I can freely talk about – to a certain degree.
They were taken from various meetings which to start with, were not scheduled, coordinated and conducted in a systematic fashion or according to a chronological system.
I might jump from one item to another, totally unrelated and far distant in time and context.
Continuity in listing the items becomes irrelevant.

Again, I am not grouping the items by topics, rather by what I could put my hands on. Reorganize them -if you wish- in your mind. I am not here working with a doctoral student on his dissertation. I beg for your understanding and indulgence.

Thank you very much!!

Chapter 1

Meetings with aliens and extraterrestrials

Representatives from governments' agencies (Military and civilian) in the Eastern and Western Hemispheres met several times with aliens, intraterrestrials and extraterrestrials in many places, on military bases, in the desert, underwater, in foreign countries, in the United States, around Earth's orbit, and outer-space.
High echelon/top brass in the military (Army, Navy, Air Force), nations' very best scientists, codes decipherers and breakers, and "select" linguists working for governments and semi-official organizations attended these meetings.
In some meetings, members of the clergy (Catholic Church) and a very prominent Protestant preacher were present.

Complex machines were used by the aliens to talk to us.
In the first two meetings, very complicated and complex tools/ machines were used by the aliens to talk to us. The aliens carried with them a special device in a circular metallic box (Voice-box, also called VB); they had two different kinds of boxes they used in communicating with us. Later on, the aliens began to speak to us in English and Russian, with a perfect accent, respectively.
In the second meeting, the aliens gave us the Translation Signals Box (TSB), which allowed us to respond to their communications and messages.
Later on, the CTF (Transmission Channel), originally "Channel of the transmissions frequency of aliens" was used. Contrary to a general belief, the aliens did not talk to us telepathically. On their device, they had the recordings of all the languages and dialects of Earth, including versions of their own languages.

But they have never communicated with us using their own languages, for the device they used to communicate with us was especially designed for this purpose.

Protective suits:

In the first meeting, military men and civilians did not wear protective suits as it was claimed by some.
So, apparently, the aliens did something to their spacecrafts, so radiations emitted by their ships would not affect us. It was later explained to us that they totally eliminated radioactive emission of their crafts to prevent any damages and injuries to the bodies and brains of those who were waiting for their arrival.
However, in other cases and situations, when aliens do not announce their arrival or landing, their crafts emit and leave behind radioactive radiations.
If strong enough, the radiations would cause severe burns and serious damage to our brain, body molecules, cells, and organs.

The aliens were wearing protective suits. They told us, human germs cause them skin irritations and dermatologic allergy.
This is one of the reasons they wear those silver-metallic suits and eyes-protection-screen-glasses.

Others reasons are, to name a few:

- a-Countering anti-gravity inside their ships,
- b-Protection against G caused by sharp turns and sudden entering-exiting time-space pockets (Speed of light) c-Navigation purposes, d-“Zooming into” the mind of humans,
- e-Thoughts projection
- f-Mental holography,
- g-Communication, so on…

The aliens told us to warn our people not to come close to any of their spacecrafts when they land unannounced (In all cases and circumstances), because their spacecrafts’ radiations cause:

- a-Temporary loss of memory,
- b-Nausea,

 c-Extensive vomiting, d-Severe headaches,
 e-Temporary paralysis, f-Temporary loss of sight,
 g-Severe skin burns, so on…

Changes in attendees' status:

Medical staff:

Following the crash of an alien spaceship, indexed as Category AC1 (A=Alien; C=Craft; 1=Type 1), an autopsy was conducted on a dead alien body at Walter Reed Hospital (Walter Reed Army Medical Center, Washington, DC/Maryland).
And what the pathologists found astonished us immensely.

We did not know how to adequately and scientifically describe the internal organs of the aliens, how they functioned and what gave "a motion" to the alien's body.
The liquid that emerged from the alien's "glands" during the autopsy was of a green color and had an intoxicating odor. At first, we thought it was blood.
But surprisingly, it did not coagulate after it has been exposed to the air, as usually it happens with human blood. The pathologists became very confused, and consequently, more physicians were brought in to assess the situation. Still, no progress was made.
This confusion intensified, once the pathologists discovered that:

- 1-The alien had no glands,
- 2-The alien had no retina,
- 3-The alien had no genital organs,
- 4-The alien's so-called blood (Green liquid) had no cells, as it is the case with human blood which contains three types of cells:

a-Leukocytes (white blood cells),
b-Erythrocytes (red blood cells),
c-Thrombocytes (platelets)

Thus, to understand these anomalies, we needed more and more physicians who specialized in different medical areas/practices.
Consequently, more specialists were added to the roster.
And their names were never revealed to outsiders.
However, the number of physicians began to decrease by the mid of 1949, partially because the aliens began to explain to us how: 1-Their body functions,

- 2-What was that green liquid we thought it was blood,
- 3-How the tissues react to pulses,
- 4-Why didn't they have muscles, cells, blood, and genital organs,
- 5-How they reproduce.

By December of 1949, only one surgeon remained on the list of the attendees. And by the mid of 1950, no further medical staff was deemed necessary by the military. However two registered nurses were called upon from time to time.
Later on, the Lt. nurse was transferred to West Germany, and the other one to Walter Reed.
Conspiracy theorists and ill-informed ufologists claimed that a nurse who allegedly attended an autopsy on a military base nearby Roswell vanished from the face of the earth, because the military got rid of her. This claim is false! The Lt. nurse reached the rank of a major and was honorably discharged at age 49. The other nurse retired from the army at age 42, and died at age 81, somewhere in England. And none of them revealed any pertinent information about any kind of alien autopsy…to a certain degree.

Walter Reed Army Medical Center

The Walter Reed Army Medical Center (WRAMC), where the aliens' autopsy was conducted in 1947. Walter Reed is about six miles from the Pentagon. Walter Reed Army Medical Center is located in Northern Washington, D.C. at 6900 Georgia Avenue NW, Washington DC 20307, between Rock Creek Park and Georgia Avenue near the Maryland (District of Columbia boundary.)

Psychics:

During the early stage of the meetings with the aliens, no less than 3 psychics were brought to the table.
One of them was a very-well known medium, originally from Bombay –but naturalized American. Two months later he was dismissed.
The psychics were not useful at all, and all their attempts to communicate with the aliens failed.

Dr. Joseph Banks Rhine with his wife,
Dr. Louisa Rhine.

The psychics were brought in because the military thought that this “Alien phenomenon” was of a paranormal nature.
Of course, the military did not describe the aliens’ spacecraft as a paranormal thing, because they have already started to call upon scientists and engineers to find out how the spacecraft flew, and how the military can reverse the aliens’ technology.

Nevertheless, the mere idea that these aliens and their crafts were not from this world pushed the military to explore all the possibilities, including the supernatural and religious aspects of the phenomenon.

By the end of 1949, the services of the psychics were permanently terminated by the military. But in March of 1950, one psychic was recalled when a two star general brought to the discussions table the files of secret German mystic societies called the "Vril-Gesellschaft" (Vril Society), and the "Vrilerinnen". (See page 36) The psychic was joined by Dr. Joseph Banks Rhine, founder of the Parapsychological Association. Dr. Rhine was known for his pioneering parapsychology laboratory and research center at Duke University.
Dr. Rhine spent approximately 180 hours on researching and assessing the paranormal aspect of the alien phenomenon.
By July of 1950, all supernatural and paranormal studies of the aliens came to a halt. And from that moment, no more psychics were asked to attend any meeting with the aliens.

However, ironically or coincidentally, during that time (1950-1951), a “branch” was created by an intelligence agency (Not the CIA) to carry on similar research and experiments, and to develop programs related to the power of mind, auto-suggestion, “psychic espionage”, and similar topics.

And to set the record straight, the “Branch” was not controlled by the CIA, NASA, DOD, DOE, USAF, the army and/or other macabre secret and vicious agencies, as it was falsely claimed by some ufologists and conspiracy theorists. As a matter of fact, the “Branch” was headed by a civilian psychiatrist, and entirely operated by civilian scientists, psychologists and physicians. The “Branch” reported directly to a committee created by The White House.

And for several months, the findings of the Branch, and the reports of the Presidential Committee were kept secret.

It was not until mid November of 1951 that the Branch’s studies, findings and reports were shared with other agencies and the military.

But the reports, recommendations, memoranda and summaries of the Presidential Committee were known only to the President of the United States and two of his personal advisors/assistants; Dr. Vannevar Bush was one of them.

Why the “Vril-Gesellschaft” was so important to the military?

In 1919, Karl Haushofer founded the order, the "Brüder Des Lichts" (Brothers of the Light) and was later renamed "Vril-Gesellschaft".
From this order, the new Templar order "Die Herren Vom Schwarzen Stein" (DHvSS, The Lords of the Black Stone) emerged in 1917, as well as the Teutonic Order, which later was united with the "Schwarze Ritter" (Black Knights) of the Thule and the SS elite "Schwarze sonne" (Black Sun).

The Thule-Gesellschaft was concerned with political issues, while the Vril-Gesellschaft was interested in the paranormal, the occult and contact with extraterrestrials.
However, both organizations were seriously involved in the development of “Super Galactic Flying Machines”. The medium Maria Orsic was the founder and leader of “Vrilerinnen”, which consisted of the ladies of the Vril Gesellschaft, and included Traute, Gudrun, Sigurn, and Heike.
The group claimed that these ladies were in a direct contact with the extraterrestrials from the Aldebaran solar system, and elite of super beings from the Constellation of Taurus. Orsic stated that she has received galactic messages from the extraterrestrials, as well as instruction on how to build a super flying machine that defies the laws of gravity.
Messages were sent to Orsic and to one of her group members, Sigrun, in an ancient eastern language. The original sketches of the super flying machine and other circular and crescent-shaped flying discs were seized in Germany by a special military task force created by General Dwight Eisenhower, 6 months after the end of Word War Two.

In 1959, Dr. von Braun stated: “We find ourselves faced by powers which are far stronger than hitherto assumed, and whose base is at present unknown to us. More I cannot say at present. We are now engaged in entering into closer contact with those powers, and within six or nine months time it may be possible to speak with more precision on the matter.”

The RFZ 1 (Rundflugzeug 1) UFO:

The first German Bell-UFO was manufactured in June 1934. Under the leadership of W. O. Schumann, the first experimental circular flying machine, the RFZ 1 (Rundflugzeug 1) was developed at Arado's hangars, in Brandenburg.

Vril continued the program, and came up with two new versions of a Bell-UFO. The SS records and archives fell into the hands of the Allies between 1945 and 1946.

Joseph Stalin knew about the SS Bell-UFO archives, and through Marshall Zukov, asked General Dwight Eisenhower to have a copy of the blueprints of the BELL-UFO. Eisenhower refused, after listening to General George S. Patton.

- 2-Discovered secret Nazi files/archives on UFOs and intercontinental missiles projects, in 1945, 1946, and 1947; (allegedly started by von Braun); 3-SS memoranda;
- 4-KGB files, allegedly stolen and sold to England's secret service; 5-German UFOs' files sold (Much later) by double agents to the American Information Agency; 6-United States naval intelligence files;

Code breakers and cryptologists:

President Truman Okayed operations to uncover and investigate anything and everything related to aliens' existence on Earth.

He informed an intelligence agency to gather everything they could find, here and abroad and create a file (Dossier).
And the President specifically informed the agency that he is NOT interested in reading their reports and learning about their findings. Secret Presidential memoranda proved otherwise, and I will address this issue later on in the book.

President Harry Truman gave the agency a carte blanche, with unlimited authority and power. He also authorized the agency to solicit the help of British cryptologists and foreign agents/spies, if necessary.
The agency did.
Russian operatives and British agents worked for the agency, but they never attended any meeting with the aliens.
The agency recruited four former British code breakers, who cracked the code of the German Enigma Machine at the signals intelligence center at Bletchley Park in England.
In fact, two scientists from Poland were the first to unlock the complicated mechanism of Enigma, and decipher its codes, not the Brits. And one of them was later recruited by us as a scientist not as a spy.
Alan Turing, was one of the first British code breakers who joined the agency's efforts to learn more about aliens symbols and codes. He was joined by the Polish Jerzy Rozycki.

On more than one occasion, the President told the head of the agency not to bother him anymore with UFO and aliens stuff.
And he made it clear to him, that nobody, no other agency, no one, not even the Air Force should know about this. In other words and simply put, they had to report to nobody, no one!
Director of the FBI, Edgar J. Hoover and the military found out and were pissed off.
Later on, when the Pentagon and Air Force became heavily involved with UFOs, and took over the whole thing, Hoover wrote to them and asked to be permanently informed.
In one of his letters he precisely showed an interest in the recovered dead bodies of three aliens.

Polish code breakers at Cadix. From left to right: Jan Gralinski, Jerzy Rozycki and Piotr Smolenski.

Public report stated that all of them died in January 1942 during the M/S Lamoriciere's accident. Insiders know best; they claimed that Jerzy Rozycki survived the accident and secretly joined our scientists team which at the time was working hard on deciphering aliens' symbols.

Jerzy Rozycki

The military ignored his request, and he went berserk. But somehow, Hoover got some very important documents from the intelligence agency. By the end of 1951, British cryptologists were dismissed. In fact, they were replaced by our people. And few of the code breakers and cryptologists from the United States were allowed to attend meetings with the aliens.

Some of the most noted American cryptographers/cryptologists were William Friedman, Agnes Meyer Driscoll, Bradford Hardie III, and Elizabeth Friedman.
By 1970, cryptology of aliens' symbols and codes came to an end.

Comments on an early meeting with “Riyah”, a female alien

Nota Bene: Excerpts from the “Aliens Transcripts”. To learn more on the subject, please refer to the books: “Transcripts of Our Governments-Aliens-Extraterrestrials Meetings in 1948-1949”, and “Transcripts of what the Aliens, Extraterrestrials and Intraterrestrials Told our Governments.”

The alien communicated with us through her “Cellular Motor”.

Throughout the entire meeting, the alien was not communicating verbally; no sound was heard from her.
Her communication was directly transmitted from her brain (cellular motor) to the device she gave us.
The device would receive her thoughts and answer in colors, images and frequencies. At the far end of the machine, a screen displayed dots, multiple dots, empty spaces, and slashes and deciphered letters and symbols.
After the alien’s message was displayed on the screen, the machine would talk to us in English, in a very and most unusual English vocabulary. For example, the alien never used pronouns, such as “I” and occasionally she would use “we”.
Her sentences were short. Her statements were very scientific, precise, and mind-bending.
The alien never said we have a body; instead she said, “we have an Essence.”

“We did not fully understand the alien’s language.”

It took the military quite a while to re-interpret and translate her alien English into ours.

And quite often they missed the point. A major part of her mind transmission was lost in the translation. Later on, the military decided that top notch linguists should be present at all meetings with aliens, so they would or could translate and interpret the alien's language and expressions correctly, and in their entirety. "Two or three days later, I discovered that this was absolutely true because the alien device contained a limited amount of English vocabulary…" said a leading cryptologist/linguist. "And the words mentally used by the female alien, technologically transmitted and displayed by the machine were those often used by the military in a slang manner…" commented another linguist.

It was very obvious to me, that all her answers were not given to us in scientific terms we could understand. At one point she told us that she avoided that on purpose.
And should she had decided to answer us in alien technology's terminology/vocabulary, her language and scientific terms would leave us with more confusion, because aliens' terms could not be found in our dictionaries and science books.
So, she did her best to use "common words and terms known to the majority of the people" who were present during the meeting.

Worth mentioning here the following:

- a-The alien described the time-space exit and entrance used by her craft as a sequence of "time-space pockets" (Ba'ab in Ana'kh, the Anunnaki's language), while the military called it rendezvous.
- b-The military inquired about navigation system of the alien's craft. The alien used the term mental command, since "there is no navigation system or tool aboard the aliens' spacecrafts."
- c-The military used the expression "flying machines." The alien used the words "Jumping machines"
- d-The military used the word or terms: Linear distance, linear time- to get from one place to another. The alien said that non-linear is a juxtaposition of two destinations. Consequently, everything we believed in, including what the military and the scientists at the meeting believed in, was in sharp contrast, opposition and contradiction with what the alien meant and explained.

At one point, it was decided by some scientists, that the amount of “Earth vocabulary” should be increased and pictures be added to the device to widen the spectrum of messages’ reception and interpretation. The aliens told them they did not need to do this because in the next meeting with other visitors, they will be able to communicate with them in “mechanical English.”

The military did not trust all the scientists and vice-versa.

A two-stars general picked up the phone and talked to someone, we were not sure who he was, and one or two minutes later, a captain entered the room and whispered something in the ear of the general. The general then said, “Ok folks, that’s it for today. Let’s wrap it up. Only military personal stand by, others, we’ll see you later”.
Two scientists were glad to leave the meeting so they could share ideas and concerns, and talk about what just took place. And as the two scientists walked down the long corridor they were followed by two MPs (Military Police).
One scientist commented “How refreshing it is to see MPs without guns.” He added, “They must be getting civilized.”
A noted scientist (From Nazi Germany), then commented, “Why the military did not allow us to come to the first meeting with the aliens?”

Before they reached the very end of the corridor, a captain approached them, and said to Dr. Teller (who later became the father of the American Hydrogen Bomb), “Please go back to the room. The general wants to talk to you…”
The other scientists were bewildered and wondered why he was the only one to be asked back to the room. They wondered, was this some sort of favoritism?
They were pissed off.
And as they were leaving the base, an old Plymouth or a Dodge, with a military tag/license plate parked outside, and Dr. von Braun (the Father of the American Space Program who put us on the moon) was seen getting out of the car.
Minutes later, he entered the meeting’s room.
It became very apparent that the military did not trust all the scientists and vice-versa.

The scientists, the military felt comfortable working with were:

- Dr. Herman Oberth
- Dr. Wernher von Braun
- Dr. Edward Teller
- Dr. Enrico Fermi

Why world’s leading scientists were asked to leave the meeting at a most crucial time, while only two were asked back for further discussion? One would ask!
What is the meaning of this?
Was their contribution to science, military science and space discovery sparked by information given to them by Riyah?
We will never know for sure.
There is a very valid and an interesting point that one could raise about the importance of alien technology information given by the alien that could have easily shifted the history of our space program and our advancement in science – all of this entrusted in only two scientists; an American, the father of the H-bomb and a German, the genius behind the V1 and V2, and father of the American space program.

Dr. Hermann Oberth

The foremost authority on rocketry outside the United States was Dr. Hermann Oberth, a Hungarian-born German. In 1923, he published a book about rocket travel into outer space. Because of his important writings, many small rocket societies sprang up around the world. In the spring of 1930, a young Wernher von Braun assisted Oberth in his early experiments in testing a liquid-fueled rocket with about 15 pounds of thrust. Photo & text credit: NASA.
Dr. Hermann Oberth had access to the “Aliens Transcripts”.

He stated: “We cannot take credit for our record advancement in certain scientific fields alone; we have been helped “people of other worlds.”

Dr. von Braun

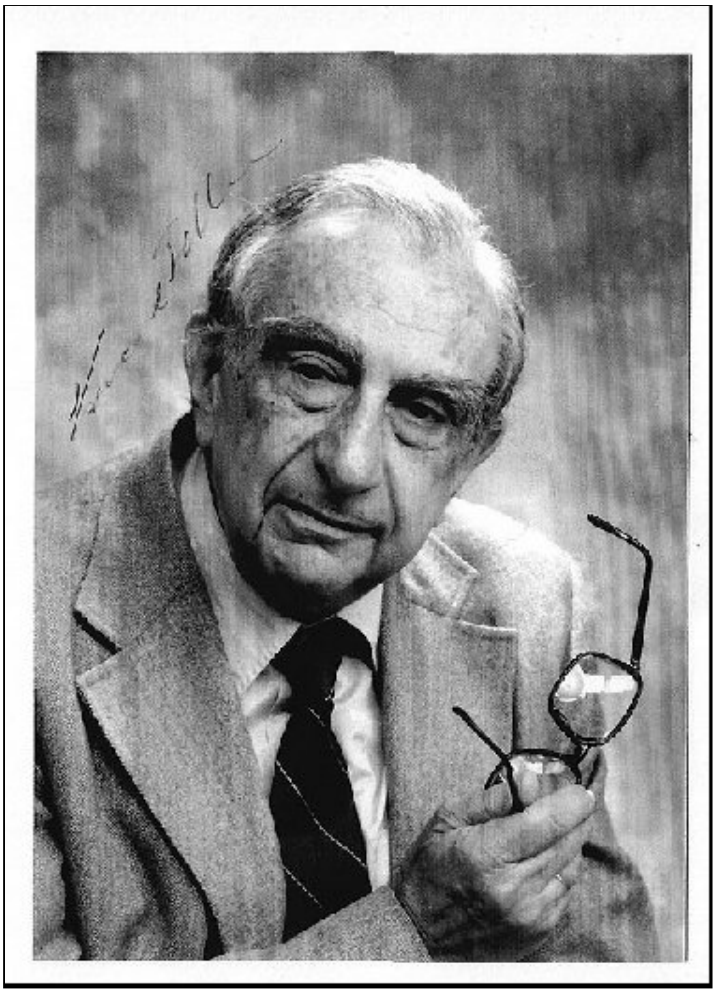
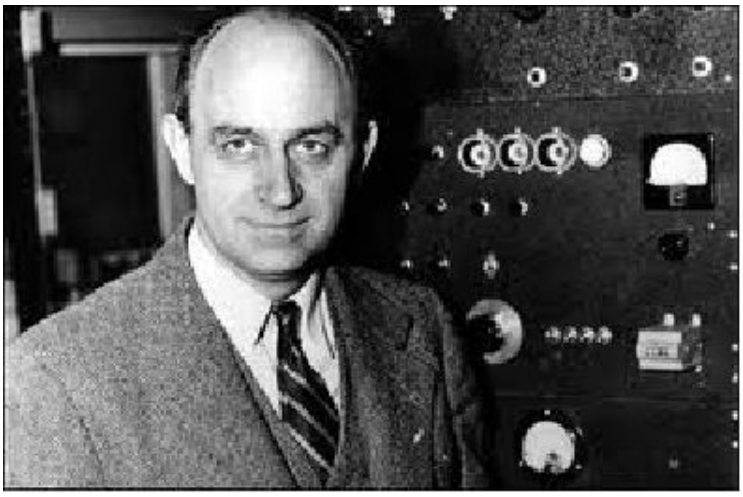
Dr. von Braun admitted on more than one occasion that he got help from the extraterrestrials. He was directly involved in the recovery of a crashed alien spacecraft (UFO; crescent shape) and alien reverse engineering from 1947 to 1949.

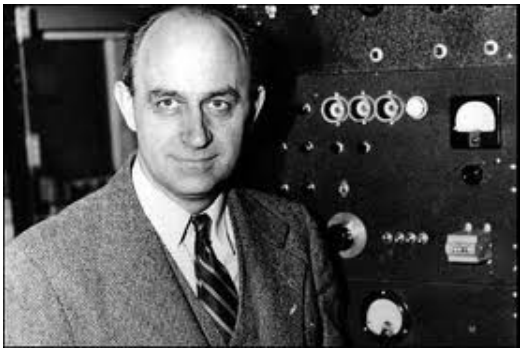


Dr. Ed Teller.

Dr. Teller submitted a detailed report on UFO and alien reverse engineering to Presidents Truman and Reagan.



Dr. Enrico Fermi.
One of the architects of the pre-Philadelphia Experiment.



A female energy behind the creation of all life-forms:

For the record:

The female alien had feminine features, but did not look like a female. In two paragraphs from other transcripts, it was noted that the word “Female” was incorrectly used by one interpreter.

When the alien referred to herself as a female, linguistically and anatomically she meant “A productive Essence”. In the aliens’ world, it is her “type” which created life, produced and reproduced life-forms without the help (Sexually) of an alien mate.

Riyah told us that the aliens produce, reproduce and give birth to life-forms (aka Essence, Being, Creature) through a scientific process incomprehensible to us.

Why linguists were brought to the table?

One scientist who was fluent in German, English and Hebrew suggested to the military that an expert linguist in ancient languages (Preferably from the Middle East) would be a great asset, assuming that aliens might be familiar with at least one of the dead languages of the Near East and Middle East. He based his assumption upon a belief that in ancient times, people from Iraq, Syria, Egypt and Lebanon have met with entities from a different world.

Secretary of State George C. Marshall enters Harvard University on June 5, 1947, to address the graduating class.

Despite the lack of scientific evidence pertaining to any possible interaction with aliens in ancient times, the German scientist was confident that Biblical scriptures and writings from Phoenician, Mesopotamian, Anatolian, and Egyptian mythology and epics clearly referred to the presence of “Heavenly Gods” who have influenced the scribes and priests in the archaic Middle East.

He also told the military that the Phoenician script, particularly the Byblos Script is more than an ancient language; it is a mathematical expression in the form of letters. Thus, Secretary of State George C. Marshall in a secret memo, drafted by one of his most trusted advisors, Charles Bohlen, stated that James B. Conant, then President of Harvard University must be consulted on the matter.

Consequently, Conant selected two expert linguists from Harvard's faculty, who in September of 1948 became members of a committee established by the military to deal with the aliens.
Dr. Willard Van Orman Quine was later added to the roster of linguists who tried to crack the mystery of the aliens' language.
Van Orman was fluent in Greek, Latin, German, French, Italian, Portuguese, Spanish, Hebrew, Aramaic and of course English. He also knew some Phoenician and Ugaritic.
Later on, it was heard from the grapevine, that Dr. Charles Malik, a close friend to Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt assumed the role of a senior expert linguist, in charge of the initial interpretation of aliens' languages and symbols.

An alien language lexicon.

In early 1950, a lexicon of aliens' languages was made available to a small group of scientists working for the military. However, that lexicon was far from being integral and entirely useful in all the meetings we had with intraterrestrials in 1950 and 1951.
The most practical lexicon was completed in September 1953, following a series of meetings with remnants of Zeta Reticulians who had numerous underwater bases and elaborate habitats, here on Earth.
In ufology's literature, the Reticulians are called the "Grays" or "Greys"; a silly label for intraterrestrial aliens who are not "gray" at all. But the nickname stuck, and the rest is history.

Linguists who worked on deciphering aliens' symbols:

Nota bene: It was suggested by some scientists, linguists and cosmologists that aliens may not possess a verbal language, but rather a written one, since many stars and planets do not have an atmosphere similar to Earth's atmosphere. Henceforth, words could not be heard, because where there is no atmosphere, no sounds could be heard.
Other ways of communication among aliens similar to pheromones were seriously considered by a group of scientists and botanists. They referred to that method of communication as "Exopherom".
Nevertheless, deciphering aliens' symbols and geometrical illustrations found on extraterrestrial spacecrafts remained one of the major concerns of our military and scientists. All this would change, when an alien who remained in U.S. custody began to speak to us in an unknown language.

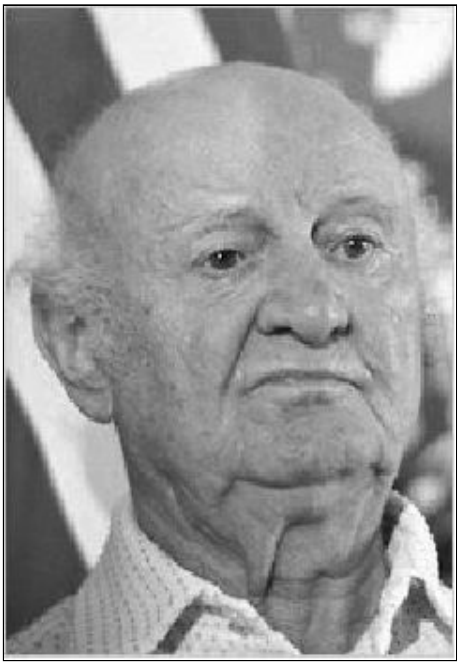
Linguists who worked for the Germans:

The list of linguists who worked for Nazi Germany is classified. Many of them were recruited by the United States upon the recommendation of Dr. von Braun, and were brought to the United States under the umbrella of “Operation Paperclip”, originally called Operation Overcast, which is still classified.
From Paperclip mushroomed “Operation Alsos”, and “TICOM” which gathered Germany’s leading linguists and cryptography’s experts.

Some of the leading figures were scientists and linguists:

- Bernhard Tessmann, who was involved with “Peenemünde,” “Projekt Zement”, V2, and wind tunnels.

This photo shows Walter Dornberger, Herbert Axter, Dr. von Braun (center) Hans Lindenberg, and Bernhard Tessmann. Photo taken in 1945.



Arthur Rudolph

- Arthur Rudolph: In Germany, Rudolph was an eminent figure of Verein für Raumschiffahrt, and he worked with Dr. von Braun and Dornberger. In 1960, he became the Deputy Director of Test Division at NASA Marshall Space Flight Center. Arthur Rudolph, a formidable cryptologist and scientist was involved with major US space programs and operations, such as the Saturn V moon rocket, and the Pershing missile. In December of 1961, he became NASA Assistant Director of Systems Engineering. He retired from NASA in 1969. NASA honored him with the NASA Exceptional Service Medal and the NASA Distinguished Service Medal.

In the United States, Arthur Rudolph was instrumental in aliens' reverse engineering program, "choreographed" by Dr. von Braun.

Kurt Blome

- Kurt Blome: In Germany, he was a high-ranking Nazi scientist, cryptologist and linguist. He also served as Reichsgesundheitsführer. On May 17, 1945, Blome was arrested by an American secret agent from CIC (Counter Intelligence Corps) which was a division of the United States army intelligence in Munich. A few months later, he was recruited by Operation Paperclip and shipped to the United States. In 1950, he was hired by an intelligent agency as a cryptologist, and in 1951, the United States Chemical Corp hired him to work on chemical warfare.

- Hans Freudenthal, a Jewish professor at the University of Amsterdam in Holland was arrested by the Nazi and was forced to work for the Germans on deciphering alleged “Alien Formula and symbols” found in the records of the Vrill Society and the SS files captured by the United States forces at the very end of WWII. Freudenthal managed to escape from a Nazi concentration camp.

The first meeting was pre-arranged:

The first meeting with aliens was a pre-scheduled and agreed upon event. The aliens told us where and when they will meet with us, and the military approved.

According to notes from the Aliens Transcripts (AT), Section 9: Addendum 12-Briefing 341-E1, 1947, this first meeting was arranged by an alien who was in the custody of the United States Air Force. At the bottom of the page, there is an arrow and a reference made to a certain “Lt. Colonel S…” who coordinated the meeting. On the next page, top left, one could read the following: “No outfits”, which means that those who waited for the arrival of the aliens did not wear any particular suits or protective suits.

The alien who arranged the meeting between our government and the extraterrestrials and aliens stayed at a military base for approximately 3 months and 4 days, and later died.
Her body was sent to a military hospital.
The alien was captured after her spacecraft crashed, for missing to “jump” into the time-space pocket, needed to enter and exit a physical dimension. The three other aliens died on impact. The one who survived was a female alien-hybrid, although no genital organs were visible (I will talk about this, later on.)

Numerous briefings of rapports with aliens and aliens' transcripts are well preserved in secret vaults.

The United States government met with different aliens races on many occasions. And the spectrum of the discussions is ad infinitum.
In my previous two books on the transcripts of the meetings between the United States and aliens, I wrote at length about the various topics discussed during the meetings, and especially the initial ones that occurred in 1947 and 1948.

Meeting with three different non-human species:

Our governments met with three different non-human species with an exceptional intelligence, and highly advanced technology and science:

- b-The Anunnaki.
- c-Naftarian or Naftarim.

Note: Some have claimed that the United States government had numerous meetings with the extraterrestrial Nordics and Lyrans (Lyrians). It is possible, but I had no access to files that could substantiate such claim.

Worth mentioning here that files on extraterrestrials and intraterrestrials are never shared in their entirety with all the government's agencies and branches dealing with the alien phenomenon.

What the NSA has on aliens is not necessarily shared by the FBI. And what the CIA has in its files on aliens' operations is not ipso facto known to the United States Air Force, so on.

Chapter 2

On the nature and organism structure of aliens

An intraterrestrial non-human race is a race of aliens with highly advanced and sophisticated intelligence, who have lived on Earth for millions of years. Originally from Zeta Reticuli, this race is known to the general public as the Greys or the Grays; a reference or possibly a descriptive definition given by people who claimed that they have been abducted by the Grays, and/or have encountered them.
Official records refer to them as Biological Entities, Space Monkeys, Shorty Aliens, EBE, Aliens. They were called intra-terrestrials because they have their habitats “inside the Earth”, underwater, as well as on remote areas inaccessible to us.
They were mentioned numerous times in the Aliens Transcripts.
The genetic breed they created, known as the hybrids live with them in their habitats underwater, as well as on land in remote areas. Many hybrid children were adopted by human families who have a perfectly normal life. The intraterrestrials are the ones who pilot the UFOs and the USOs.

*** *** ***

Anunnaki: They are wrongly defined as those who came to Earth from above, referring to Nibiru, their home planet.
The Anunnaki were the deities worshipped by the Sumerians and Akkadians in Mesopotamia.
They are of an extraterrestrial origin, but did not come from Nibiru, which is an Akkadian and a Chaldean name for Jupiter. Their constellation is called Ashta.Ri. Our governments met only twice with the Anunnaki who were interestingly enough, represented by two females.
This race was mentioned 14 times in the Aliens Transcripts.

Naftarian race, and sometimes called Naftarim came from the star system of Naftari, yet to be discovered and acknowledged by mainstream science. Official records show that our governments did meet with the Naftarians on many occasions for a very long time. And the first meeting occurred in 1947.
The Naftarim were mentioned numerous times in the Aliens Transcripts, because of the vital scientific information and instructions we received from them. Some were extremely useful to us because of the information they gave us in our attempts to reverse alien technology.

The Essence: A term used by aliens during the meetings, and was mentioned in the Transcripts. The Essence is basically what we call, the human body or human life.
This Essence can enter and exit several dimensions instantly and simultaneously. In an alien context, Essence means the alien structure (Mind-Body).
Essences also mean aliens living on different dimensions; they are multi-dimensional and vibrational presences/entities/beings. The essence does not disintegrate. Essence is not made from flesh and bones that need nutrition constantly. It is like a perfect machine which has consciousness, fairness and extremely developed intelligence. Since their essence does not have tissues and muscles, no nutrition is necessary, no food is required, no water is required to keep them functioning and growing.

*** *** ***

Multiplication of ourselves: A statement given by the aliens. Multiplication means aliens' self-reproduction by copying themselves, in other words, a constant recreation of the Essence in a multitude of identical copies of their being.

*** *** ***

The frame: A word used by the alien to refer to the physical body she used while appearing on Earth.

*** *** ***

A reconditioned body: The aliens' body (Frame) in any of its forms self-adjusts, rewinds itself and starts anew. In other words, the body (Physical frame) that the aliens use to manifest themselves to us takes care of itself, on its own. It cures itself, reprograms itself, energizes itself, reproduces itself, so on. However, many aliens do not have a physical body as we understand it and defined it.

*** *** ***

Manufactured aliens: The aliens' essences (creatures) are given life instantly and they are complete when they are born (Produced). In other words, they do not need years upon years to become adult and mature. They are born adult with all the knowledge, wisdom and information they need to function as a complete, fully grown, fully developed, fully intelligent creature.

*** *** ***

Intelligent mechanism: Aliens' composition (Mind-Body).

 These black eyes are in fact lenses. The aliens remove them at will. They are attached to a gland we do not have in our system. The aliens don’t have a retina; they see through cells channel in their brain. Three of the major functions of the lenses are: a-Protection,
b-Navigation/direction,
c-Communication.

Categories of alien races:

- Entities without a Frame (physical structure).
- Cellular
- Purely mental
- Ethero-organic
- Vibrational
- Multi-dimensional
- Some are physical
- Physical-mental
- Superposed presences
- Some exist between parallel dimensions
- Some are from the future
- Some did not exist yet
- Penetrating vibrations
- Organic
- Spheric
- Some have all our physical senses and faculties but do not have ears to hear, eyes to see, mouths to taste, hands to feel because those organs are completely useless outside our world.
- And some your mind cannot understand.

The brain's cell that is responsible for everything:

The aliens told us that about a cell in our brains (not discovered yet by science,) which is responsible for everything and anything that shapes and conditions our psyche, organism, intelligence, and SOUL.

It is in that particular cell, that the so-called HUMAN SOUL exists, lives, and transforms itself into other substances and dimensions during our life, and in the afterlife.

They described to our scientists and to the military how this cell functions and controls our SOUL.

I will elaborate on the subject in part 2 of this series.

*** *** ***

The alien who survived the UFO crash:

The alien who survived the UFO crash near Roswell was a female. She was detained by the authorities for a few months, and later on died in custody. She was not a “Gray”, but a hybrid Class 3. She was able to communicate with us in English. And she had a “functional mouth” and human characteristics and features, such as senses, reactions, and emotional behavior. She did not look at all like the other Grays-Aliens who died in the crash.

Early reports on a UFO crash near Roswell indicated that 3 aliens were dead and their bodies were recovered. The fourth one was found alive but disoriented.

He/she/it was approximately five foot tall; a second report indicated that the surviving alien was four foot tall.

In the original (First report) report which also contained “medical observations”, it was noted that the surviving alien has no gender. Later on, in a communiqué sent to the Pentagon, the surviving alien’s gender was acknowledged as a male; however no genital organs were visible.

The story is getting more complicated, because rumors start to circulate that the alien was a female indeed, because herself told them about her gender.

I tend to believe that the surviving alien was de facto a female; a hybrid-female, not totally Gray.

Following an autopsy conducted on the aliens’ dead bodies, two medical examiners came to an astonishing conclusion:

- 1-The aliens had no lungs.
- 2-The aliens had no digestive system.
- 3-The aliens had a green color blood.
- 4-The aliens had no retina.
- 5-The aliens had no genitals. This item was mentioned twice in the Aliens Transcripts
- 6-The aliens had no vocal chords.
- 7-The aliens had three fingers on each hand.

- 8-Aliens’ skin is covered with small pores that have multiple functions and purposes we do not fully understand.
- 9-The size of their brains was extremely large par rapport to the size of their skull.
- 10-The aliens suits were “glued” to their bodies, as if the suits were part of their skin. And much more.

*** *** ***

Not all aliens are alike:
Not all aliens are short with three fingers on each hand. On some planets, galactic beings do not have fingers at all, not even hands. Many of our human body features and organs are useless on other planets. Eyes, hands, fingers and our five senses are not needed.
The intraterrestrials who originally came from Zeta Reticuli, millions of years ago told us that “not all aliens look alike. Some don’t have eyes, others don’t have ears, and a great number of them don’t have hands, lungs and body organs similar to yours. On their planets, ears, eyes, hands and lungs are useless.”- Source: The Aliens Transcripts, 1947.

*** *** ***

Organism structure of various aliens’ races: The Grays- Aliens who died in the UFO crash near Roswell did not have internal organs similar to ours; they had no heart, no blood circulatory system, no mouth, no ears, etc.
And we have found from autopsy of dead aliens that they had a bizarre green liquid inside their bodies.
Some experts in the field claimed that the green fluid substituted for blood, but such claim was never confirmed by mainstream science and medical sciences.
None of the aliens who met with us had reproductive organs, a human respiratory system, and a digestive system. All of them told us that they do not consume food, and do not have waste inside their bodies, except an Anunnaki who said that her race consumes human and non-human food, but they dispose of the waste through skin pores.

The internal structure of the aliens' bodies is animated by a cellular motor located in the brain.
And the brain is neither biological nor organic.
Their brain is purely cellular consisting of intricate cells channels and mental-electrical frequencies circuit. The aliens' brain does not produce emotions, but it recognizes them as mental images.
The aliens do not have a nervous system. Thus, they do not feel pain, stress, anxiety, fatigue, hunger, heat, cold, and similar reaction and feelings.
The intraterrestrials have three long and skinny fingers on each hand. The non-human races from Ashtari and Naftari have five fingers on each hand, just like us.
Four other galactic species including the Anunnaki and Igigi resemble humans to a certain degree.
None of the aliens we have met had a retina.
Aliens from highly advanced civilizations have multiple copies of their "Essences" (Body frame, being, mental-physical structure, etc.) In other words, authentic copies of their bodies with astonishing space-time memory capabilities.

*** *** ***

The hybrid race:
The hybrid race is genetically created by the intraterrestrials. There are four generations and three types of hybrids: Hybrids' three distinct types/categories are:

- 1-Type one is born from the first combination of abductees' and Grays' DNA. This type closely resembles the Grays.
- 2-The second type is the middle-stage hybrids; they are the result of mating among the early-stage ones.
- 3-The third type is the late-stage hybrids, known as the human-hybrids. They look exactly like human beings, but are much shorter, and have different facial structure. Some live among us.

And their hybrid children (from 2 years to 5 years) live in two different habitats: a-Human environment
b-Underground-underwater communities.

*** *** ***

How old are the extraterrestrials?
As old as the Universe itself; as old as the cosmic energy because everything is made from the cosmic energy.
Their Essence (Structure/Organism) never dies physically or mentally, it is transformed and re-transformed endlessly.
This concept is not new.

Antoine-Laurent de Lavoisier (August 26, 1743 - May 8, 1794) already said, “Rien ne se perd, rien ne se crée, tout se transforme”, (Nothing is lost, nothing is created, everything is transformed) based upon the famous statement of Anaxagore de Clazomenes’ “Rien ne naît ni ne périt, mais des choses déjà existantes se combinent, puis se séparent de nouveau.” (Nothing is born or perished, but things that they already exist, combine and separate again.)

*** *** ***

Lavoisier and his wife in 1788. Painting by David.

What is their average life-span?

It depends on each civilization; some are constantly superposed, multiplied and reproduced. Some live millions of years, others hundreds of thousands of years.
It all depends on the level of their development, advancement, technology and cosmic awareness. Extraterrestrials who are an essential part of the cosmic particles never die.

*** *** ***

Aliens and extraterrestrials are built differently from us.

Note: The following was displayed on the “Voice Box Screen”; a machine the aliens gave us, and which allowed us to record and translate anything that has been said by the aliens.
Worth mentioning here that a great deal of what the alien has said was lost in the translation, simply because:
1-The vocabulary as stored in the machine was very limited;
2-The aliens’ vocabulary (Words and sentences) seemed bizarre to the military interpreters and civilian linguists, because the meaning of chosen words by the alien could not be adequately translated in any of our languages; 3-Alien’s technical words and scientific explanation pertaining to spacecrafts’ mode of operation and construction, the nature and structural organism of the bodies of the aliens, and the world (Dimensions, zones, planets, galaxies) the aliens lived in, defied our laws of physics.

Emotions are not wired to our cellular motor.

In a meeting with aliens that occurred in 1947, in the United States of America, an extraterrestrial told us: “We don’t have lungs. We don’t have abdomen. We don’t eat. We don’t have a digestive system.
We don’t produce waste.
We don’t feel pain because we don’t have a nervous system. Emotions –as you call it – are not wired to our cellular motor.
Your kind needs emotions to express physically what you feel.

In our case, we do not show emotions, not because we don't have emotions, but because we are not a physical creation.
Our emotions are not physical, they are mental. This makes a big difference between us and you; you are physical and we are non physical. You live in a physical world, we live in time world.
Our brain operates our physical body on all levels.
When you look at me, you simply see is a frame.
I can leave it here, and go somewhere else, and continue to be myself in other places.
It will disintegrate gradually on its own, and I continue as an Essence somewhere else.
I can keep doing this endlessly."

*** *** ***

Alien: "I start anew with another copy of my body."

A military scientist asked the alien: "So when you want to return, do you pick up with the same body?
The alien said: "If it is not harmed. If it disintegrates, then I start anew with another copy of my body. And you will not notice the difference. The body you are now looking at could be one of my multiple copies. How would you know?

My body disintegrates only when it is harmed. But, our essence survives and continues somewhere else. The essence does not disintegrate; it continues to live in other dimensions. And within each dimension beyond the physical world there are dimensions which are created by each one of us on a mental level, and created by the cosmic energy on a physical level.
We have the power to create universes from the energy of our cellular motor.
We are very powerful, extremely advanced and we have seen so many different universes that exist or will exist in what you call the future. There is a frontier when you cross it, you will see a great number of dimensions each one entering and exiting the other. The essence (the alien meant what we call, the human body or human life) also can enter and exit several dimensions instantly and simultaneously.

The Essences are multi-dimensional and vibrational essences. They can be both physical and mental."

*** *** ***

Alien: "We continue to exist through multiplication of ourselves."

One of the scientists who attended the meeting asked:
"Does one copy of yourself mirror or react to another?
And, does one have a direct impact on the other?
Please explain?"
The alien answered: We continue to exist through multiplication of ourselves.
The alien was asked: "Then what?"
The alien replied: "Everything you have on earth we have it and nothing of what we have, you have on earth, because we live concurrently in a physical world and a purely mental world.
Your kind lives only in a physical world.
Few thousand creatures live on different planets that have needs similar to yours, such as air, oxygen and food. And there are billions and billions of Essences who do not need what you need, like water, air and food, because they are not made from flesh and bones.
Since we do not have circulatory system, blood circulation, we don't need the organ you call heart. And since our Essence does not have tissues and muscles, no nutrition is necessary, no food is required, no water is required to keep us functioning and growing.
Our Essence is a perfect and a very powerful machine which has consciousness, fairness and extremely developed intelligence.
We are an intelligent mechanism, very peaceful, very alert, very knowledgeable of the universe, and we are also very familiar with your kind and your origin."

*** *** ***

Alien: "We don't have waste in our bodies."

Excerpts from a transcript of a meeting with an extraterrestrial:
The alien said: “We are pure. We don’t have waste in our bodies. We do not smell. We do not bleed. We do not feel pain. We do not feel cold. We do not feel the heat. All of those are a sign of weakness and imperfection that your kind will suffer from forever.
The difference between you and us is enormous.
Your body and our Essence are both machines.
Your kind (Human machine) is destructive and self destructive.
We are peaceful, powerful and very intelligent machine.
Your brain is weak. It is not yet fully operational. We begin to exist with a fully operationally cellular motor which has all the knowledge and information each one of us needs. Your body as a machine is made from skin, flesh, bones, and nerves.
Our essence has nothing of that.
This is why we can last for hundreds of thousands of years. Our Essence is constantly reconditioned. The body (Frame) in any of its forms self adjusts, rewinds itself and starts anew.”

*** *** ***

Extraterrestrials manufacture themselves, and are born fully grown and mature.

An extraterrestrial told us that their Essence (Being, creature) is given life and “maturity” instantly, meaning that they are born (Produced) complete. And extraterrestrial children don’t have to wait long to be fully developed. They come into existence fully grown.
The extraterrestrial added, “In many dimensions, time does not exist, therefore it’s not necessary for a new born essence (creature) to wait for many years to grow up to be an adult or mature person. There is no time outside your world.
In our dimensions, we don’t have age reference because no one grows older than others. We stay the same forever.”

*** *** ***

Smell (Odor) of aliens' bodies:

Aliens' bodies do not have body odors. Only, when the body of an intraterrestrial or a hybrid has been autopsied, a very strong and suffocating smell comes out from inside the body.
Usually, it comes out, when a green fluid suddenly emerges from the internal organs which are extremely different from ours.
None of the operating surgeons and nurses inside the autopsy room could stand the smell. They ran away "like a mad dog" said one of the military nurses. In fact, the odor was so strong, it invaded the whole compound. They had to seal the room for 24 hours. Physicians at Water Reed Army Medical Center, became very concerned and alarmed, for they sought that the smell could be very toxic.

Note: Worth mentioning here that no autopsy report from Walter Reed was ever issued by a physician (Pathologist) who conducted any kind of autopsy on dead aliens.
Instead, scattered and reconstructed medical notes (Unsigned) were sent to the Pentagon two days later.
This is not a normal military or medical procedure as any one might guess. But it did happen intentionally., and I am unable to elaborate further on this situation.

The names of the pathologists and assisting nurses were never revealed to "outsider-civilians". And the preliminary notes vanished from the face of the earth. Thus, there is no way to honestly and accurately document the autopsy.
And most certainly, the autopsy was not filmed.
I am absolutely certain that no civilian or any officer below the rank of Colonel had access to any autopsy report. Even at the Pentagon, only two generals and one military surgeon had access to a medical report describing in details the anatomy and physiology of the aliens. Said report was then submitted to The White House.

An insider said, "To the best of my knowledge, there is only one original report which remained hidden somewhere in a secret military dossier at The Pentagon, and one copy of the report which was read by the President and YES disposed of. Grosso modo, and quite honestly, we don't know a thing about the aliens' autopsy. Yes, it did happen, but there are no records to substantiate the fact that it did happen."

*** *** ***

Words "sex" and "intercourse":
The words "sex" and "intercourse" do not exist in the aliens' vocabulary. Not even once, any of these two words were ever used by an alien during any meeting.
Yet, the aliens are very familiar with how we reproduce and how human sexual behavior conditions and influences our lifestyle and habits.

Aliens could not walk straight: The aliens we met could not walk straight and in a balanced manner, because they did not have muscles to support their weight, even though, they were very miniscule and frail.
Nevertheless their hands were very flexible and agile. Only two species could walk gracefully; the Anunnaki and the Naftarians. The hybrids walked just like us. And some were tall by aliens' standards. However, they could not move their head right and left without twisting their body. It appeared to us as if their neck was barely attached to their head.
This is one of the easily recognized characteristic features of the Grays-Hybrids.

*** *** ***

Aliens' faculties and brain:
To entities on other planets and multi-dimensional zones, eyes like ours are not needed, for they use different organs to see; some use skins pores, others cells in the brain. And the brain (Cellular Motor) is not necessary located inside a skull; it could be found anywhere under the skin, or on the surface, even stored in a collective awareness.

*** *** ***

No sense of time:
They Grays have no sense of time. However, they can clearly differentiate between past events and future events. They do not follow any chonological order or time-frame sequences.

*** *** ***

The aliens (Intraterrestrials) and extraterrestrials have no territorial ambitions:
The intraterrestrials have no territorial ambitions, for they could not survive on the surface of Earth for a long period. Their body's composition and structure would not allow them to survive for long time. The oxygen we breathe is poison to them. This item was mentioned twice in the Aliens Transcripts.

*** *** ***

Intraterrestrials' (Grays) concerns and worries about underground nuclear tests: To assume that the intraterrestrials (The Alien Grays) are not worried about continuous underground atomic/nuclear tests and detonations is absurd.
Almost in all the meetings and discussions we had with them, the question of nuclear arsenal, and underground detonations was of a major concern to them.
In 1992, the Grays met twice with our scientists, intelligence and national security agents, and the military men in Arizona and Alaska. And they demanded that all underground testings should cease immediately.
As a result, the United States stopped undergound nuclear testings in 1992. Other leading countries followed suit. England's last nuclear testing occurred in 1991, Russia in 1990.

France and China had a surprise-visit by the Grays in 1996. And before the end of 1996, both France and China abandonned their nuclear testings.
In 1998, Pakistan and India were confronted by the Grays, when both country detonnated their atomic bombs in the same year.
The Pakistani and Indians got the message of the Grays.
It is quite reasonable to conclude that the Grays are seriously concerned about Earth's safety, simply because they share it with us.

The Grays can easily control us:
The Grays have at their disposal all the mental, intellectual, scientific, paranormal, and physical means and tools to paralyze, handicap, incapacitate, and control the physical, mental, emotional, and psychological faculties of the abductees.

The Grays are claustrophobic:
The Grays are claustrophobic. They will be disoriented if they are confined in a small area for a long period of time in the same place.

Catalogue of various categories of extraterrestrials and alien races: The United States and Russia have huge dossiers cataloguing alien species under different categories, such as, to name a few: a-Category
- b-Nature
- c-Physiognomy
- d-Location of their habitat
- e-Faculty
- f-Intelligence g-Science
- h-Technology i-Crafts
- j-Communication
- k-Joint programs

France, England, Russia, Germany and the United States governments have an illustrated catalogue of various categories of non-human, extraterrestrial and alien races who are scattered in the immensity of the Cosmos, and some who live on Earth.
The drawings and illustrations of their anatomy, physiology and physiognomy were based upon information given to us by the Grays.
Our knowledge of outer-space entities comes directly from the Grays, and a lengthy report from an Anunnaki.
So far, none of these extraterrestrial entities contacted us. We do not have sufficient or meaningful information and scientific data about any of them.
Some, for reasons we don’t know or we don’t understand, have visited planet Earth, thousands of years ago, and never returned.
According to the aliens we met with, galactic civilizations are not interested in us, as simple as that.
Why? Because they are millions of years ahead of us, and we have nothing to offer them.

Excerpt from the “Aliens Transcripts” 1947-1948

Questions and alien’s answers:
Note: Questions were asked by civilian scientists, military scientists, experts in various fields and a General who was in charge of the meeting.

Question: How far from Earth is the nearest highly advanced species?
Alien: Fifteen light years.

Question: How advanced are they?
Alien: Some millions of years, others billions of years ahead of you.

Question: What do they think of us?
Alien: I have already answered this question. I sense fear in your question.
Note: In a previous answer, the alien said “Not much!”

Question: Do they have a structured social system?
Alien: It is a collective awareness. Scientific. Advanced. Just.

Question: Do they believe in God?
Alien: I have already answered this question. Rewind the tapes of the speaking device.
Note: The previous answer was: Each Universe has its own god.

Question: Do they have armed forces?
Alien: They have organized forces.
Those who live in lower dimensions have aggressive means, and they are quite destructive. This is why I advised you never to try to communicate with what or who when you don’t know who that may be.

Question: How many advanced civilizations are in the universe?
Alien: Billions.

Question: What can you tell us about those small strange alien creatures that have human features and are very short. Are they like the Essence, like you or other species?
Alien: They are from your earth and somewhere else.
Question: Where is that somewhere else?
Alien: It is behind your comprehension. They live on different planets, not far from each other in a zone called Naftari.

Note: Ashtari Constellation: Anunnaki’s habitat (Planet, stars, etc.) Naftari: A galactic zone inhabited by aliens.

Question: Do you have names for other Essences and other species?
Alien: We do not call each other by names unless it is very necessary because where we live, the atmospheric condition does not always allow sounds to be heard. Part of our environment does not have atmosphere. And where there is no atmosphere there are two things that do not exist: Sound and Air.

Note: Explanation of the alien’s answer:
“We do not call each other by names unless it is very necessary…”

The device used to communicate with the alien did not contain enough words from our vocabulary (English language), to correctly and adequately record and transmit what the alien really meant.
The device contained very limited number of words. For example “Call” meant communicate, and not talking to somebody or emitting a vocal sound.

The alien meant by “Call” a straightforward communication using mental frequency.
Of course, aliens are capable of producing sounds and vocal expressions. But their most common way of communicating with each other is via mental images projections that take real form in their “Cellular Motor” (Brain’ cells).
Yes, they are capable of producing and hearing voices, noises and sounds.
The first type of “Communication Device” used in the early meetings was called CTF (Transmission Channel); originally “Channel of the transmission frequency of aliens.” By the mid of November or December of 1948, the name was changed to TD (Talking Device).
In the early draft of “Contact”, a science-fiction novel by Dr. Carl Sagan, the alien’s device was mentioned. But as expected, it was deleted in the final copy of the book, just a few days before it was submitted to the publisher. I do not blame Dr. Sagan; I am sure he had some serious reasons for deleting any reference made to the alien’s communication device.

Explanation of the alien’s answer:
“unless it is very necessary.”
The alien meant, unless it is instant.
The word necessary was a wrong interpretation.
And “instant” meant, at the time aliens’ brains (Cellular Motors) are tuned to different communication frequencies. In another meeting, the alien did briefly explain how the cells in their brains (Cellular Motors) function; she said that their brains contains billions upon billions of cells interconnected to a main mental center of energy and collectively wired to other aliens’ brains.
Thus, mental communications are “instant.”

Their “Cellular Motor” is not made from flesh and blood, but rather from cells containing channels and depots of knowledge and information data-base.

She also said, while communicating with others, she can easily and instantly communicate with different groups using different emission channels. It is like listening to a radio set capable of simultaneously transmitting different radio shows, programs and talks by turning the knob to one specific station.

Explanation of the alien's answer:
"because where we live the atmospheric condition does not always allow sounds to be heard."
The alien meant, that atmospheric conditions change from one space zone to another space zone.
In other words, in entering different dimensions or other galaxies, aliens can hear sounds that usually are not "registered" on their main planet.

Explanation of the alien's answer:
"Part of our environment does not have atmosphere."
The alien meant that a specific zone in the atmosphere of her planet does not have "Earth's atmosphere." This does not mean that their entire planet is without an atmosphere.
In another meeting, she did explain to us, that within one dimension of her planet, there are multiple layers of inner layers of different dimensions. It is like the old fashion way of typing on a typewriter and making carbon copies.

You type once, but what you typed is instantly copied on other copies. It is one stack of papers, but each one has a different zone, a different atmosphere, and totally separated from the other carbon-copies, yet, all copies remain an integral part of what you have typed.
This is another confusing explanation for how a single planet can have multiple and different atmospheres.

Question: When you meet with other races…do you meet with them physically or mentally?
Do you use a physical body or something else?
Alien: It depends on the nature and structure of their Essence.

Question: Would you feel my hand if I touch you?
Alien: It will register.

Question: Meaning what?
Alien: My Cellular Motor will first sense what you feel when you touch me.

Question: Please explain.
Alien: As soon as you touch my “Frame”, my Cellular Motor registers everything about your hand.
It reads your health condition, your intentions, your emotions, your strength, your weaknesses; anything and everything your hand can release. This is what our Essence senses and feels from touching you.

Question: You mean you would feel what I would normally feel when I touch you?
My own feelings?
Alien: Yes.

Question: If so, then you do not have personal feelings? Do you?
Alien: Our Essence has more feeling than you can imagine. We understand physical feelings. We are not affected by physical feelings because we are NOT biological. Our Frame receives and our Cellular Motor reads and analyses instantly.

Question: Do you sense danger?
Do you feel pain? Do you feel heat and cold?
Alien: We do. We also feel what is not physical.
This is more important. You do not have enough energy to leave a lasting impression.
Do not confuse energy with physical strength or a violent act.
Physical strength does not affect us. And a violent act is instantly neutralized by our Essence.

Question: What kind of memory do you have?
Alien: Non-sensorial memory.

Question: Please explain.
Alien: Cellular memory.

Question: What is a Cellular Memory?
Alien: It is everything.
It is an essential part of the basic mechanism of our Cellular Motor. It contains and constantly updates our data-base, our knowledge, our learning, and analyzes what to anticipate.

Question: Where is located your memory?
Alien: It is collective. It is shared. It is transmitted. It is stored in and animated by a cell in our cellular motor.

Question: Is your Cellular Motor an engine?
A motor in the real sense?
Alien: To a certain degree. But it is not organic.
It is not biological.
It is not physical.

Question: Do you know, speak or understand any of our language (s)?
Alien: It is insignificant. It is limited. It is “Too little”.

Question: Do you understand anything…about….
(Note: Few lines are missing.)
our language, vocabulary, words…
(Note: The question did not end here; the last two lines could not be read, ink missing.)
Alien: Yes.

Question: Is your language purely scientific?
Alien: Yes.

Question: Do you express emotions in your language?
Aliens: Emotions is not the right word. Instead we use the word “Intelligence”.

Question: What intelligence has to do with emotions, when we are talking about language compositions and vocabulary?
Alien: Emotions are humans' natural responses and reactions to many things.
We do not react, we act.
We do not respond, we continue the process.

Question: What do you mean? Please explain.
Alien: You will not understand.

The General's question: Is there some sort of a secret language or a code you use when you communicate with other groups? By the way how do you communicate with others?
Alien: No code. No secrets.
No hidden language in any of our communications. Knowledge is universally shared.

General's question: Do you talk to each other? What language do you use? Can we learn your language?
Alien: Yes affirmative. We use a cosmic scientific knowledge understood by all recipients. Yes you can learn our language. It is simple. It is complete. It is truthful. It is infinite.

General's question: Who are those recipients?
Alien: The Essences.

General's question: The Essences? Meaning what?
Who? Who are these essences?
Alien: Everything and anything that has intelligence.

General's question: Are the signs on your craft from your language?
Alien: Yes. Affirmative.

General's question: Can we learn your language?
Do you have manuals? Books?

Alien: No books. We will teach our language when you are ready. You are not ready yet. You will learn our language…you will, when we feel you are ready and worthy.

Chapter 3

On contact and communication with aliens and extraterrestrials, and languages

---

Telepathy is not the only method of communication.

Contrary to a general belief, the Grays-Aliens do not always communicate with us, (especially with abductees and contactees) telepathically.
Many of them are capable of speaking in English.
This was confirmed by official reports and documented in the Aliens Transcripts.

*** *** ***

They are not interested in us.

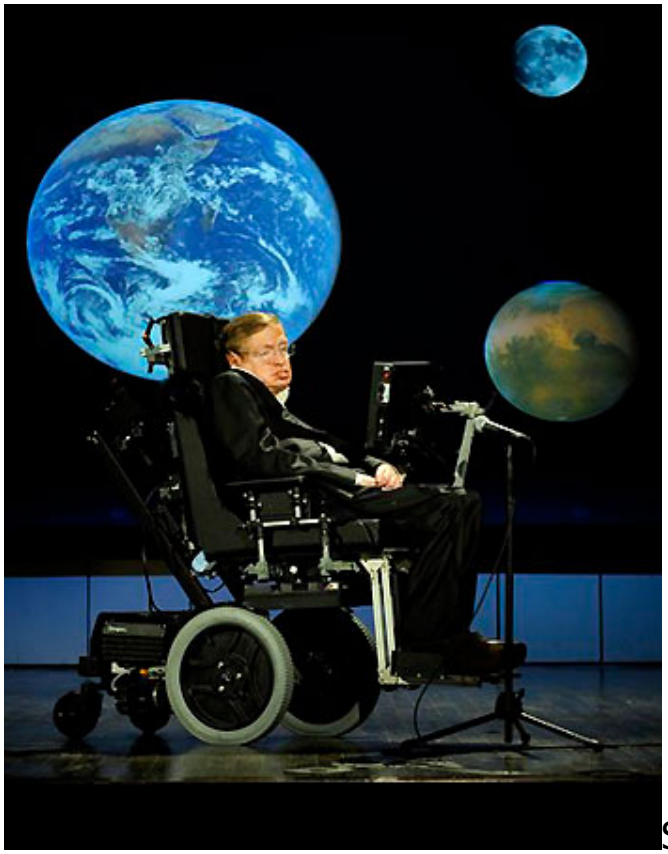
Not all of them understand our languages. “No reason to. We are not interested in your kind. But your languages can be easily understood by us once they are fed to our machines…” told us an alien during a meeting that occurred in 1947, and once again in another meeting in 1948.
Aliens, in general, don’t have any intention of contacting us.
But some did in the past. “There is a non human race that is in contact with you because they are concerned with earth safety, for they consider earth as their own habitat…” told us an alien during a meeting that occurred in 1947.

*** *** ***

What should we do in the event they do contact us?

“It depends on the race that communicates with you or suddenly appears in your world. If they are hostile, there is nothing you can do about it because they are far more advanced than you. It would be a bad day for earth.

It is not advisable for your kind to try to communicate with other species, for your own safety…” told us an alien during an initial meeting that occurred in 1947.
The alien added, “it is best not to try to contact any of the other species because you cannot be sure who you may come in contact with. You may find yourself contacting a race that has hostile tendencies.”
Numerous scientists were concerned with the possibility of the arrival of aggressive extraterrestrials.
They were referring to some alien races they did not meet with. They feared the “Unknown.” Dr. Teller reassured them that the aliens he knew were not a threat to us, on the contrary, if well handled, they could become a “formidable asset.”
Many disagreed.



Stephen Hawking

Dr. Stephen Hawking’s comments (Warning) on contacting the aliens

Ironically, some sixty years later, Stephen Hawking suggested that extraterrestrials are almost certain to exist — but that instead of seeking them out, humanity should be doing all it that can to avoid any contact.

“To my mathematical brain, the numbers alone make thinking about aliens perfectly rational,” he said. “The real challenge is to work out what aliens might actually be like.” The answer, he suggests, is that most of it will be the equivalent of microbes or simple animals — the sort of life that has dominated Earth for most of its history.

One scene in his documentary for the Discovery Channel shows herds of two-legged herbivores browsing on an alien cliff-face where they are picked off by flying, yellow lizard-like predators. Another shows glowing fluorescent aquatic animals forming vast shoals in the oceans thought to underlie the thick ice coating Europa, one of the moons of Jupiter.

Such scenes are speculative, but Hawking uses them to lead on to a serious point: that a few life forms could be intelligent and pose a threat. Hawking believes that contact with such a species could be devastating for humanity.

He suggests that aliens might simply raid Earth for its resources and then move on: “We only have to look at ourselves to see how intelligent life might develop into something we wouldn’t want to meet. I imagine they might exist in massive ships, having used up all the resources from their home planet.

Such advanced aliens would perhaps become nomads, looking to conquer and colonise whatever planets they can reach.” He concludes that trying to make contact with alien races is “a little too risky”.

He said: “If aliens ever visit us, I think the outcome would be much as when Christopher Columbus first landed in America, which didn’t turn out very well for the Native Americans.” –The Sunday Times, April 25, 2010.

Because alien life might not have DNA like us, Hawking warned: “Watch out if you would meet an alien. You could be infected with a disease with which you have no resistance.”-Fox News.

So, why some aliens are here? What made them come?

Because the aliens are “on our way”, meaning that Earth and our solar system and their location/position in the Milky Way, are their passage to other galaxies. This of course applies only to out of space aliens; simply put, extraterrestrials.
The intraterrestrials are here, simply because they live on Earth. They have inhabited planet Earth for millions of years.
More on this point in other parts of the book.
The aliens (From different worlds and dimensions) were here before, and have visited planet Earth occasionally, but not for the reasons given by some colorful ufologists, abductees, contactees, channelers and New Age enthusiasts.
Extraterrestrials did not come to Earth to mine for gold, enslave humans, or to give a message of love, hope and salvation to a few “chosen ones.” They are not our celestial brothers and sisters as many psychics and spiritual healers think, or want us to believe.
Extraterrestrials are scientific entities/manifestations, and not spiritual messengers.
And in many instances, the UFOs people we see in the sky are alien spacecrafts created by intraterrestrials; some are piloted by the Grays, and some are of a robotic nature.
If an extraterrestrial message of an extreme importance is to be given to humanity, aliens would simply reveal it to all of us and use a scientific method of communication/delivery.

*** *** ***

No personal messages from aliens:

Aliens and intraterrestrials do not give individuals, and so-called contactees and abductees, personal messages to be delivered to humanity. Aliens and intraterrestrials rarely talk to abductees, almost never; no reason to.

In some rare instances, they express “something” by slowly and gradually raising their hands or directly staring at individuals, who are usually in a state of shock, fear, confusion, and paralysis.

*** *** ***

Telepathic communication between Grays aliens and contactees and abductees: The alleged telepathic communication that occurred between an alien intraterrestrial and so-called contactees and abductees is a very rare phenomenon. It only occurs when the individual is an exceptionally alert person, who remains coherent, and does not succumb to panic and emotional disturbances, and does not fall into a state of paralysis.

*** *** ***

Galactic languages:
Not all aliens have the same vocabulary. There are millions of galactic languages and dialects.
However, there is a universal/cosmic protocol language used and understood by millions of galactic civilizations.

*** *** ***

Communicating with an alien during a meeting:
Throughout the entire meeting, the alien was not communicating verbally; no sound was heard from her.
Her communication was directly transmitted from her brain (cellular motor) to the device she gave us.
The device would receive her thoughts and answers in colors, images, frequencies, and dots like we use to send messages through the Morse code.
At the far end of the machine, there is a screen which displayed dots, multiple dots, empty spaces, and slashes and deciphered the letters and forms.

Secondly, after this was displayed on the screen, the machine would talk to us in English, in a very and most unusual English vocabulary. For example, the alien never used pronouns, such as “I” and occasionally she would use “we”.
The alien never said we have a body; instead she said we have an Essence. It took the military quite a while to re-interpret her English into their English. And, quite often they missed the point. A major part of her mind transmission was lost in the translation. Later on the military decided firmly that top notch linguists in the country should be present at all meetings with aliens.
Hopefully to help translate and interpret the alien languages and expressions correctly. Weeks later, I discovered that this was absolutely true because the alien device contained a limited amount of English vocabulary.
And the words used mentally by the alien, technologically transmitted and displayed by the machine were those often used by the military in their daily life- normal everyday slang. It was very obvious, to me, that all her answers were not given to us with technological and scientific terms. At one point the female alien told us she avoided that on purpose.

Ba’ab: Anunnaki and other multidimensional entities’ stargate that leads to multiple universes and parallel dimensions.
In Ana’kh, Ba’ab means a door; a door to other dimensions.
The Anunnaki deploy Ba’ab “split-time-space technology” to travel to any region of the universe in a fraction of a minute.
In contemporary science fiction literature, quantum physics, and ufology, it could be compared to the Stargate technology This technology allows the Anunnaki to bend time and space and travel to various dimensions, levels and types of the cosmos, such as: 1-The multi-dimensional world,
- 2-The parallel world,
- 3-The future world, (World in the future)
- 4-The galatico-plasma world,
- 5-The past dimension,
- 6-The future dimension,
- 7-The multiverse zones,
- 8-The space-memory zone,
- 9-The Akhashic sphere.

This also allows them to send and receive instant knowledge and messages from and to the beginning of the universe, the beginning of time, and the beginning of the cosmic motion.
This time-space technology is not a monopoly of the Anunnaki.
Many extraterrestrial civilizations are familiar with the concept and its pragmatic application.
In plain English, beyond and around Earth, and the world we know, there are millions upon millions of parallel universes, multiple dimensions, habitats, and life-forms, Earth-like planets that can be explored, seen, and visited via Ba'abs (Stargates).
From Ba'ab "Bab", derived:

- a-The Sumerian word Babu. (The plural is: Babani and Babati).
- b-The Arabic word Bab. (The plural is: Abwaab.)

Some ancient Near Eastern and Middle Eastern civilizations incorporated the word Bab in their most important symbols and national entity vocabularies, such as the word of Babylon, which means the gate of God.
Babylon is composed of two words:

- a-Bab (Gate),
- b-Ylon or Eli, or El (God).

"Zahi asbut bab-rab-sunnu ana izziqipi uzaqip."
From the Annals of Sardanapalus. Translated verbatim: "700, men about their great gate on crosses, I crucified."
King Esur (Assur, Ashur) said: "usashira gimir babani."
Translated verbatim: "I put around all the gates."
And: "mihrit babi-sin." Translated verbatim: "Before their gates."
From the Annals of Sardanapalus: "Zabi tilai in babatte "Babati" sa er-su ana ziqipi lu uzaqipi."
Translated verbatim: "Men alive at the gates of his city on crosses I impaled."
And from the slabs of Sennacherib: "Mihrit babati."
Translated verbatim: "Before the gates."

Ba'abs and Madkhaal:

There is a huge cosmic Ba’ab/stargate over Chicago. But this one is quite unique, because it is called Madkhaal, which means in Ana’kh, an entrance, rather than a stargate.
Not all stargates are identical, nor do they function in the same manner. There are stargates that lead to another (singular) world, an incomprehensible world of bent time-space. And there are stargates that lead you into parallel dimensions adjacent to our world.
The one over Chicago leads you towards a dimension where time and space are no longer linear. In this dimension, the laws of physics as they are known to us on earth no longer apply.
The Madkhaal is located above Grand Central Station in downtown Chicago. It is oval and vibrates like a rubber band, very similar to a multiverse membrane, found in the perimeter of the eleven dimensions mentioned in contemporary quantum physics. It is neither visible to the naked eye nor can it be detected by any apparatus on Earth. Also worth mentioning here, is the subject of the “Anomaly of Stargates.”
Stargates do vary in size, function, purpose and mobility, just like the extraterrestrial underwater plasma corridors, used to navigate our seas and oceans.
The stargate in New York City, which is located over Madison Square Garden, is twice the size of that over Central Station in downtown Chicago. Travel to and from the Chicago stargate is possible at particular times, however travel through the Madison Square Garden Ba’ab is a one way street.

The American Ba’ab and the “Giant Gray”:
Some have have claimed that the extraterrestrial Grays (Intraterrestrial Aliens) showed American military scientists how to enter a Ba’ab (Stargate).
A most unusual claim about the American Ba’ab stated that in 2006, while an American spaceship tried to enter a Ba’ab, a “giant Gray” exited the spacecraft, because it needed a sudden repair. The alien was sucked up into the galactic vacuum and the craft exploded. This event was recorded on a film and was sent to NASA and MIT.

Where are they located these Ba’abs?

Some twenty five years ago, I asked two Ulema, Dr. Farid Tayara and Cheik Al Mutawali: “Where are these Ba’abs?” Dr. Tayara said, verbatim: “They are everywhere. Ba’abs are called Ba’abs because they are so close to us, just like the front door of your house…if the main entrance (Door) to your home is far away from your home, then it is worthless. A front door must be at the very entrance of your residence…same thing for the Ba’abs and their locations vis-a-vis Earth.

Madinat AlKahira “City of Cairo” for instance has 7 huge Ba’abs (Stargates)…there is a major stargate in Baalbeck, another major one in Petra (Jordan), and a very big one in Languedoc (France).”

Honorable Cheik Al Mutawali said: “Sometimes, some Ba’abs have a double entrance with one single exit. The double entrance consists of two narrow parallel layers so thin, and so close to each other like two Chinese rice paper sheets…you can’t separate them or take them apart, yet, fleet of huge spaceships of several miles in length will go through like a feather…”

Most recently, I asked Victoria (Sinhar Ambar Anati) the very same question, and she said: “They are everywhere…absolutely everywhere…

New York City has 14 of them,
Nevada 7,
Arizona 6,
Texas 6,
Washington DC/Virginia Metropolitan area has 5,
California has 7,
Dover in England has 1, New Delhi has 2,
Bombay has 3,
Arwad has 1,
Lima has 2,
Yucatan has 1,
Tyre has 1, etc…”

Are Ba’abs related to extraterrestrials landing corridors and the Anunnaki’s Space Triangle?

The key-point here is the link of a landing spot to a Ba’ab, not the locations of Ba’abs over or around Earth.

The early Anunnaki-Ulema manuscripts identified the “Hind and Sindh” (Ancient territories of modern India and Pakistan) as one of the major Ba’abs that open directly on a landing spot for the return of the Anunnaki.

The most frequently mentioned cities and regions for the landing of the Anunnaki, and which are associated with Ba’abs are:

- 1-Punjab,
- 2-State of Multan also called Bayt al-Zahab by the Arabs, and Dar Al-Aman by the Mughals, 3-Lamghan,
- 4-The area surrounding the river of Chinab, 5-Kashmir,
- 6-Jazirat Al Sind.

Cheik Al Mutawalli and Dr. Farid Tayarah (Both, members of Hiram Masonic Lodges in Lebanon and Egypt, and custodians of the Book "Sun of the Great Knowledge": Shams Al Maa-Ref Al Koubra) said that some regions of India lign up perfectly with the "Anunnaki Triangle" that defines precisely the perimeter of their landing and designated cities for their return.

This "Triangle" encompasses additional cities outside India. Dr. Tayarah named those cities and areas:

Hidden entrances to other worlds and dimensions, right here on Earth

---

Do UFOs and extraterrestrials use galactic entrances and space-time corridors to enter and exit our world? And how many are they? Are they visible to the naked eye?

Answer:
There are several unseen, hidden, and undetectable entrances to three different dimensions beyond ours:

a- Entrance(s) to the next-life (After death);
b- Entrances to the fourth dimension;
c- Entrance(s) to the parallel dimension (Ba'ab)

Each dimension (Zone) is a totally different world in structure, substance, composition, and boundaries.
Some are extremely close to us. Closer than you think.
I will explain:

1-Entrance to the next-life:
This is called life after death. And it is exactly what you might think. The realm of deceased people. Only dead people enter this zone, and they never return. The Babylonians called it "The Land of no Return".
It was mentioned in their epics. In some passages, it was called Kur in Akkadian. On their way in that dimension, deceased people encounter all sorts of entities, benevolent and malevolent. This is not my personal theory.
I did not invent such a story. This was mentioned thousands of years ago in the Egyptian Book of the Dead, in the Tibetan "Bardo Todol", and many other texts from various ancient cultures.

2-Entrance to the fourth dimension:

This is a zone that a person enters in two manners, mental and physical. This zone could have entrances everywhere; in your bedroom, in a valley, in a building corridor, absolutely everywhere and anywhere.
And this includes the oceans, the bottom of the sea, in thin air, and right behind your homes doors.
Many people have been sucked-up, absorbed by its “Pulling Force” (Magnetic field) in a split of a second.
Once they are attracted or pulled by these entrances, they zoom inside the entrance in an incredible speed. These entrances for incomprehensible reasons could open up and close anytime, any moment.
And as soon as a person or an object is swallowed by the current (Flux-Influx) of those entrances, the entrance shut its opening (Overture) on itself.
Those kinds of entrances are situated everywhere in our world. There is a vast literature on people, vehicles, animals who have vanished in thin air, in a split of second.
Highly advanced alien races know exactly the locations of these entrances, as well as their currents, time of opening and closing. They have used these entrances as corridors and passages for millions of years.
Many of their spaceships have navigated through these channels. Some Ulema have explained the passages of these entrances as a net of time and space bending on itself, and thus reducing distances and time between points and destinations.
Sometimes, UFOs sharp angular turns and zigzag pattern indicate where these entrances are located in the skies. This is why Ulema have said that UFOs do not fly, they jump. Meaning, they jump from one pocket to another.
In other words, these pockets are nothing more than entrances to a higher dimension; the fourth dimension.
I am absolutely sure that several scientists working on classified outer-space programs (sponsored by some governments) have already worked on projects related to fourth dimensional entrances.
Some might have succeeded.
And I will rest my case here, and keep my mouth shut!

It was reported in close circles, that a couple living somewhere in the United States had a nightmarish experience, when the nanny of their two lovely children vanished in thin air, in a fraction of second in their kitchen, while opening a concentrated milk can; never to be found again.
The military police was called in to investigate. Two days later, the “case was closed” and the couple were ordered to evacuate their home. You have all the rights to doubt my words. And I do understand!
To an alert mind, these sorts of stories are science fiction. From the bottom of my heart, I do not wish to see you in a similar situation, because this could happen to all of us.

A highly regarded scientist told me once that the disappearance of the nanny was never considered a “close case”. He said, that “a few hours after this tragic and frightening experience happened, one parapsychologist and one quantum physics expert were taken to the couple’s home to conduct further investigation.
They searched the whole house, and after three laborious hours, they found the entrance to the fourth dimension, located under the kitchen sink. They sealed the kitchen area, and marked the entrance “Door” of the threatening dimension with colored fiberglass sheets.”

3-Entrance to the parallel dimension: I would not hereby elaborate on this dimension, because I have written on this subject ad infinitum in many of my previous books. But worth mentioning here, that parallel dimensions are not the product of fantasy or science fiction. Some of the world’s most admired scientists, and professors teaching quantum physics have already explained what a parallel dimension is, and/ or how multiple dimensions work.
According to their most recent findings and theories, there are 11 known parallel dimensions in the universe.

Note: Answering one of my readers question about Ba’ab.

Question: What are the signs that people will see in the skies the day before the Anunnaki return, and where will they be seen? Will the Ba’abs be activated?

Answer:
One year before the return of the Anunnaki, around the end of the year 2021, the governments of many countries will start to circulate publications and manuals describing signs that will indicate the appearance 0f extraterrestrial craft visible to the public at large.
Many Bishops and Archbishops in the United States and England have already been briefed on the subject, and were secretly asked to cooperate on the redaction of material, that would suitably marry religious dogma with “intelligent design”, as well as the frightening arrival of extraterrestrials to our planet.
Ironically, four major Anunnaki stargates will be activated and opened, which religious leaders will also interpret as the arrival of the “Four Horsemen” as stated in the Book of Revelation, and will be urging believers to run to their churches and pray.
Readers and believers of the “Left Behind” series will have another shot at redemption!!
By the end of 2021, American citizens will have the most unusual evacuation display of UFOs/USOs of all shapes and sizes (oval, circular, crescent-shaped, triangular, cylindrical, etc.) These are the vehicles of the Grays jointly operated with the military.

Excerpts from the “Aliens Transcripts”:

Note: Questions were asked by attendees at meetings with aliens that occurred in 1948 and 1949.

Question: Where does the universe begin and end?
Alien: The universe began before time and space was created. There is no beginning and no ending for the ever expanding and ever lasting universe.

Question: How would you explain time?
Alien: Time is a notion created by your kind. You can’t measure time unless you transcend it. In your current condition, and based on your level of science and technology, you can’t do that yet; and consequently, you could not understand what time is. In your mind, time is measured by the space of distance that separates you.
And, this is why you will never be able to understand time as long as you attach it to a distance and motion of objects.

Question: How would you explain the relation between time and space?
Alien: One contains the other. One eliminates the other.

Question: Which is bigger and more important, time or space?
Alien: What is beyond time and space.

Question: How do you measure time?
Alien: Time cannot be measured. It is your kind’s perception of what it can’t be measured and evaluated. Yet you live by it.

Question: How do you measure space?
Alien: We don’t.

Question: Is there something in the universe faster than the speed of light?
Alien: Yes. The cellular motor's speed.

Question: How do you measure it?
Alien: We don't. It is faster than us. And since it is part of us and we are part of it, we become one with it. You can't measure what is your Essence, because you will limit it and prevent it from growing.

Question: Who created the Universe?
Alien: Itself.

Question: Please explain.
Alien: The Universe came to exist before time and space existed.

Question: What do you mean?
Alien: There is no beginning otherwise the Universe would need a creator.

Question: Do you mean the Universe created itself?
Alien: Not exactly.

Question: Would you please clarify?
Alien: You would never understand unless you get outside time and space.

Question: How can I do that?
Alien: In your situation and condition, you can't.

Question: Can you?
Alien: Yes.

Question: How come?
Alien: Because I am not a physical entity.

Question: Meaning what?

Alien: I am not trapped or defined by age, space, and time. Possibly by memory if needed.

Question: Memory? What kind of memory?
Alien: The one that gives me a “Frame” when I enter a physical dimension.

Question: I don’t understand.
Alien: I already know that. Look at the screen (Speaking Device)
Question: Why don’t we get rid of this machine and talk in Plain English. Or why don’t you teach us your language? This will save us lots of trouble. It is very confusing you know. You don’t understand our language and we don’t understand yours.
Alien: Confusing to your kind.

Question: What would happen to us if we land on your planet?
Alien: You will die.

Question: Why?
Alien: The atmosphere.

Question: Please explain.
Alien: Humans can’t survive on our planet. Before they arrive to our planet, they will be crashed, they will melt, they will be vaporized.

Question: By what? Who will melt them?
Alien: Cosmic radiations.

Question: If we manage to escape radiations or wear protective suits, and we manage to land on your planet, what would happen to us? More bad surprises…
Alien: You will suffocate.

Question: Why?
Alien: No oxygen. No atmosphere. And you will loose all your senses.

Question: We will carry oxygen tanks and special equipments.
Alien: They will stop to function. You and your equipments will float like feathers. You will not be able to land.

Question: If I remember you told us that part of your planet has an atmosphere, so we will land there.
Alien: First, you have to penetrate first the non-atmosphere zone.
Second, you must survive the non-atmosphere zone, which you can't, and then you enter our atmosphere zone. It would take you millions of years. And if you succeed to do so, you will have no more muscles left; no more bones, no more blood, and no more tissues.

Habitable planet or an Earth-like planet:
The alien said that "Jamara" is the name of one of three stars from Barach-shimsu system (We call it Alpha Centauri system) which sustains life as we know it.
It is 4.37 light years away from Earth. It is like your planet. It has atmosphere, water, forest, rivers, mountains, volcanos. It has sweet and salty liquid water on and under the surface.

Note: The word "Jamara" was later shorten by the military to "Jam 1." Very appropriate!!!
6 months after NASA was established (1960), a mini-copy (Sent as a report) of this particular transcript was sent to:
a- T. Keith Glennan, NASA first administrator, and Dr. Robert Seamans, Associate NASA Administrator.
b- Wilbur Brucker, then United States Army Secretary.
Dr. von Braun, Dr. Oswald Lange, Major General John Barclay, and Dr. William Mrazek, Propulsion and Vehicle Engineering Division (Dr. von Braun's scientific team) read the transcript before it was sent to Mr. Glennan.

Chapter 5

On aliens and extraterrestrials spaceships and UFOs

Zooming dimension: The act or process by witch aliens' spacecrafts zoom (Enter and exit) time-space zone.

*** *** ***

Zooming-zigzagging: The pattern of aliens' spacecrafts flight.
They don't fly.
They jump from one angle to another angle, meaning they enter and exit time-space pockets or time-wall to appear and disappear, to navigate and change directions.

*** *** ***

Time-machines: Aliens' spacecrafts.
Extraterrestrials and aliens UFOs are not flying machines, they are time-machines. Extraterrestrials and aliens do not build their vehicle gradually, as we do. They just produce them, ready-made.
UFOs and USOs don't fly, they jump, and they zoom in and zoom out.
They are not controlled by a dashboard or a navigation system; they are controlled by the aliens' mind. There are no gears to take off or to land. The alien pilots are part of their flying machines; and the machines are an extension of their mental energy, linked to a headband attached to the pilot's forehead.
Aliens' spacecrafts don't need maintenance and repair. They are "re-serviced", and kept in an excellent condition by scanning machines that recharge their propulsion system, balance their anti-gravity/navigation system, and eliminates metal-fatigue.

Earth’s waters (our seas and oceans) are frequently used by the intraterrestrials as fuel for their crafts.

Excerpts from the “Aliens Transcripts”:
Note: Questions were asked by attendees at meetings with aliens that occurred in 1948 and 1949.
Question: In your part of the Universe, do you use the same crafts you use to come to Earth?
Alien: If necessary.

Question: Meaning what?
Alien: We use the same crafts if we enter a dense physical dimension. But we can always do it without machines very easily.

Question: What is a time-machine?
Alien: A tool that does not bend or fail while entering multiple or consecutive parallel dimensions.

Question: The one you used to come to Earth…is it a time-machine?
Alien: Yes.

Question: Is Earth a consecutive parallel dimension?
Alien: Yes. Part of it.

Question: Then why did you use a time-machine and not another “tool”? Earth is a dense physical dimension? Isn’t it?
Alien: Not always.

Question: What do you mean not always?
Alien: We do not enter your space.
We do not fly in your atmosphere. We zoom in. This eliminates any density.

Question: How do you explain the crash of your crafts?
Alien: They never crashed; they were smashed because they bumped against the time-wall.
Question: What do you mean?
Alien: I used the word wall so you can understand it physically. It is not a wall in the physical sense, it is a point of an entrance and exit that opens up and closes up in a matter of seconds. When the spacecraft enters this point successfully, it will exist successfully. It has only a few seconds, sometimes a fraction of a second to do that. If the spacecraft misses the opening of the point or reaches the point that just closed, it becomes solid. And, when it hits it, it smashes itself.
Question: So what we heard from other alien species about how their spacecraft crash is not correct?
We were told they were hit by an electrical discharge and they crashed to the ground.
Alien: This is not correct at all, because our communities are very advanced, even you in your limited/primitive standards, you have developed tools and ways to protect your homes and planes against electrical discharges and lightning.
You place rods on the top of your buildings and homes to protect them against lightening and other atmospheric discharges. And many of your primitive airplanes were struck by lightning and still did not go down. Our machines are far more advanced than your rods and airplanes. We have even mastered the zooming dimensions.

Question: What do you mean zooming dimensions?
Alien: Our machines zoom into time-space zone.
Our machines don’t fly like regular airplanes.
They jump from one time space pocket to another time space pocket, in a non linear way.

Question: What do you mean non-linear way?
Is there another way to travel outside the line, or reach a destination?
You must have a track, No?

Alien: The way you see things on Earth, the way you understand the universe, the way you set up appointments and meetings is regulated and determined by time.
Even your distances from one city to the next are calculated by time.
Sometimes you forget about the distances between two cities or destinations, but not how long it will take you to get there. And, you keep looking at your watch.
This is a linear observation because you put time on one line. It is like if you take the time and put it at the border of one town and you will tell time, drive me over there.
So what you have done with time is make it linear.
In our world, we do not travel like that.
We don't make a straight line.
It is a most primitive way of transportation, communication and travel since the Universe was created.
So, how do we reach our destination?
We do, by superposing it with the point of departure.

A Colonel asked the alien if any of their spacecrafts has entered our oceans. The alien answered no.
The Colonel seemed to be confused. Perhaps, he did not believe the alien, because he commented on the alien's answer by saying, "We have seen them…."
Aliens: Not ours.

Question: Not yours? Meaning what?
Alien: We have no need to enter your oceans.

Question: Apparently some did.
We saw something diving into the ocean. They were not ours.
How do you explain this?
What do you have to say about this?
Alien: They belong to another race.

Question: Another alien race?
How many are they?
From outer space?

Alien: Not from outer space.

Question: Where from then? The moon? Mars?
Alien: For your planet.

Question: Oh no!!! Not from here, I bet on it.
Answer: Your knowledge is very limited.

Question: Then tell me about it.
Alien: They are from your planet.
They belong to a galactic race living on your planet.
They are not from our world.

Note: A few months later, it became clear to us, that those alien spacecrafts were made by and piloted by an alien race that has lived here on Earth for millions of years, and long before modern Man walked on the surface of the globe.

The alien added that once the spacecraft enters the water, it takes on different scientific properties; the craft does not plunge into the water as we have assumed. It does not dive.
In fact, it never touches the surface of the water.
In some incomprehensible manner, the craft creates some sort of vacuum tunnel before it penetrates the water.
